remembering and honoring loved ones with cancer

"Diagnosed with Breast Cancer at the age of 71 has become quite the journey. Besides the usual difficult physical and emotional reactions that chemotherapy, surgery, and radiation bring, is the financial drain it can put on a family. With only social security to live on, this is quite a challenge.

CoxHealth Foundation has blessed me with a gift toward my current hospital charges and transportation to care. This has allowed me a measure of relief so I can concentrate on recovering from the physical and emotional ravages of chemotherapy to date.

Thank you for supporting CoxHealth Foundation so they are able to help people like me!"

Denice – CoxHealth Patient
